At the end of June, IJGlobal announced the winners of our awards for institutional activity and transactions closed during the 2020 calendar year in Asia Pacific.

The APAC team – led by regional editor Dave Doré and Civi Yap in Hong Kong as well as Maya Chavvakula in London – hope you enjoyed the fantastic 2020 virtual awards for the region.

IJGlobal editorial director Angus Leslie-Melville and global editor Ila Patel deftly hosted the virtual awards for the Asia Pacific region.

We pride ourselves on staging peer-review awards, gathering a team of independent industry experts to weigh up submissions and (secretly) select winners for the coveted IJGlobal Awards.

As always, we pulled together a line-up of judges who have deep experience across the panoply of infrastructure and energy sectors – industry professionals who have a finger on the pulse.

A warm thank you to our esteemed Asia Pacific team of judges!

Before showcasing the winners, we are always looking to innovate our awards programme. This year we selected Clifford Capital's corporate restructuring and Asian Development Bank's investment in the new holding company as the Asia Pacific Editor's Choice Award.

"It was a herculean effort, achieved at the peak of the pandemic when the market was volatile and investor sentiment was weak," says Christine Chan, ADB's co-leader of the project team and now senior adviser to vice-president for private sector operations and PPPs.

"ADB's equity investment in CCH will have a ripple effect across the sustainable infrastructure finance market. ADB's equity will expand CCH's capital base to fuel its next stage of growth and unleash new innovations across the infrastructure financing continuum."

Award winners in the institutional categories for Asia Pacific are:

- MUFG – Bond arranger of the year
- Asian Development Bank – DFI of the year

Another innovation in the region is that we chose two Asia Pacific regional transaction awards.

The 552MW Changfang and 48MW Xidao offshore wind farms in the Taiwan Strait, better known as the CFXD project, is the Asia Pacific Regional Project Finance deal of the year. CFXD was chosen from among 219 project finance transactions that closed in 2020 around the region.
